Dear residents,

The recent spike in positive cases was due to a large farm voluntarily offering testing to its employees. At the time of testing all employees were asymptomatic and to my knowledge all are doing well.

This is in no way a reflection of our resident's discipline and perseverance throughout the stay in place order. It is an isolated case and being monitored closely by the farm in conjunction with health officials.

The testing was prompted by an initiative from the State offering free testing for all essential farm workers. This farm was being proactive and took advantage of the opportunity for the health and well being of its employees.
